How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I avoid them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

Cruel.

"What are you thinking of, Beatrice?" inquired Mr. Hainer of his wife, one morning while they were at breakfast.

"I am dreaming of my youth," replied the woman.

"Well," answered the brute, "I thought you had a far-away look in your eyes."—Lippincott's.

A G(h)astly Mistake.

"I'm going down to the gas company's office to have a row," he said.

"Why, have they overcharged you?"

"I should say they have. My house was shut up all last quarter, and yet here's a bill half as large again as the previous quarter. I'll see them hanged before I pay a penny of it. The robbers!"

Four hours later they again met.

"Well," the overcharged man was asked, "did you kick up a row down at the gas office?"

"No, not exactly; I had intended to, but—"

"They bluffed you?"

"I wasn't exactly bluffed."

"You told 'em your house had been closed all the quarter?"

"Yes, but they insisted that the gas had been burned."

"And you—"

"Oh, I paid the bill. I happened to remember that when I got home I found that four burners had been left alight, flaring away the whole quarter, and so I paid."

CUR DOG CARRIES THE MAIL

Faithful Canine Watches for Trains and Takes Pouch From Depot to Post Office.

Nettleton, Kan.—Nettleton is a flag station on the Santa Fe between Kinsley and Garfield, and mail is thrown off there twice a day by trains 567 westbound and 6 eastbound. When either of these trains whistle for Nettleton an ordinary cur pup may be seen striking out for the depot.

A score of trains go through Nettleton daily, but the pup pays no attention to any excepting the mail trains. It is his business. The postmistress owns him and it is his job to pick up the mail pouch which is thrown off the trains, which seldom stop, and trot off to the post office.

Twice a day he performs the task. The mail clerks and train men know him and watch for him. He has never missed a train. Even when the engines are changed and different sounding whistles are used, he never makes a mistake. He appears to know the time the two trains are due.

ROBERT'S SON MAY LOSE LEG

Congressman's Boy Was Examining Shell Supposed to Have Been Army Relic.

Washington.—Hiram Roberts, aged six, son of Congressman Ernest W. Roberts of the Ninth Massachusetts district, is in danger of losing a leg as the result of the explosion of a loaded shell with which he and a companion, Dudley Page, of Frederick, Md., were playing at Congressman Robert's house, 1918 N street, N. W.

The boys found the shell, which is said to have been an army relic. While the youngsters were trying to see the works the shell dropped from young Robert's hands, it is said, and exploded with a terrific crash, striking Hiram in the leg and almost wrecking the room.

The congressman hurried his son to the Homeopathic hospital, where everything was done to relieve his sufferings. It is feared that amputation may be necessary.

Famous Rhode Island.

It was a geography lesson, and the teacher had been asking what some of the different States were noted for. Looking at one of the little girls she asked:

"Tell me, Florence, what Rhone Island is celebrated for?"

For a moment the child was silent, then an inspiration apparently came to her.

"Rhode Island," replied the little girl, "is celebrated for being the only one of the United States that is the smallest."

Hives, eczema, itch or salt rheum sets you crazy. Can't bear the touch of your clothing. Doan's Ointment is fine for skin itching. All druggists 50c ets.

CURE DOGS OF EATING EGGS

Small Amount of Tartar Emetic Will Break the Habit, According to Authority.

When eggs are bringing top prices in the market nothing is more discouraging than to find, on making the round of the nests that the dog has been there before you. Often this parasite on henry profits is a family pet that the owners do not wish to kill. But as with other pests, remedy lies only with killing or curing. Here is a cure which I have used successfully:

Buy one dram of tartar emetic—this is a poison and should be handled with the greatest of care. Under no circumstances should the powder be placed where it is accessible to children.

Pip a small piece out of an eggshell, pour out a little of the contents and put about as much of the tartar emetic as will cover the point of a small pocket knife into the shell. Paste a small piece of white paper over the broken portion, and place the egg in one of the nests, preferably in a secluded spot, where the dog has been accustomed to pilfer. Put it where he can get it quickly before the hens have a chance to crack the treated egg.

Having eaten this poison the dog becomes violently sick and will subsequently shun eggs. This means of curing the habit, though drastic, is effectual. It will not result in the death of the dog unless an overdose is given.

Some farmers use red pepper instead of the tartar emetic, a pinch of pepper concealed in a baited egg often being effectual. Throughout the southern states Indian turnips when available are used in the same manner. This is a pungent plant which, when eaten, causes the tongue to smart and burn and often to swell.—George H. Dacy in the Country Gentleman.

PITY FOR ALL THE WORLD

Lovers Always Will Feel That None Can Be So Happy as They.

We are all pretty well agreed, I think, that whatever days of happiness may come to us in later life, the most shining days of our girlhood are those in which love comes first. No other quite compares with them, and no other experience of youth compares with this experience.

We are under a kind of spell. We know that others have loved before, yet we think it unlikely any have ever loved quite as we love. We have heard much about love all our lives, have speculated about it since our early teens, have been eavesdropping at love scenes ever since we were allowed to read novels or see love plays; yet when the experience comes to ourselves it comes with a shock of surprise.

It is so much more wonderful than anyone has told us, so much more beautiful than any one has led us to believe. So we begin to imagine that no one has ever loved quite as we love. It is a world new-created paradise, amazing and beautiful and ours alone. So, even though we try to hide it, we go about patronizing the world at large, and even though we never speak it we bestow a kind of pity on all who are less fortunate in their love.

Yet, however unique you or I may believe our particular experience to be, one fact stands out notable: love is old as the world is old; not this form of it nor that, not one particular experience of it or another, but love itself. And of love itself we know too little, O, far too little, even those of us who believe that we love so exceedingly well!—Anne Bryan McCall, in Woman's Home Companion.

To Dodge Lightning Stroke.

Every year many persons are killed by lightning because they did not know what to do in a thunderstorm. First of all, it is safer to be indoors than out. Most persons are killed when in the open. If you are caught in a thunderstorm don't be afraid of sheltering under a tree just because you have heard that it is dangerous. It is dangerous to shelter under a solitary tree, because lightning likes to strike the highest point as a rule for some distance round. But you are pretty safe if you take shelter in a wood. A tree in a wood is seldom struck. Certain trees are more dangerous than others. A far greater number of oak trees are struck than beech trees. Elm trees are nearly as dangerous as oak trees. Avoid big crowds and collections of animals. For some reason—presumably the warmth that rises from their bodies—crowds of animals and persons are liable to be struck by lightning.

Three Ages of Crime.

"There are three ages of criminals," said Lecoq, the detective.

"The first age, from seventeen to thirty, is the daring and desperate one. Highway robbery, burglaries and hold-ups, murder for a few dollars—this is the worst age, a cruel, wicked and supremely foolish age."

"The second age, from thirty to forty-five, is the cautious middle one. Burglaries that are safe and easy, forgery, counterfeiting—in a word, crimes demanding neither violence nor pluck—that is the second age."

"The third age, from forty-five to seventy, is the executive one. The criminal is now a gang leader. He does not act himself, but he plans and commands crimes of magnitude, train robberies, bank robberies, kidnappings and the like."

AFTER the banks had refused to arrange for the payment of warrants for Confederate veteran pensions, John C. Mayo, the Paintsville millionaire, agreed to pay them without discount. A most generous and patriotic act. In the meantime, the Legislature, seemingly without a commanding figure to shape legislation to relieve the condition of the treasury, is frittering away its time at $10 a day per member, in listening to suffragettes, prescribing the width of women's dresses and attacking the railroads.

ONCE again the Times warns the Legislature that it is playing with fire, trifling with time, frittering away its opportunities and working damnation to the Democratic party. If the Democratic legislators do not return to their senses, to the middle of the road, and come a-sailin' there will not be enough left of Democracy to wad a single-barreled shotgun next November.—The Glasgow Times.

Normal Chapel Monday Evening.

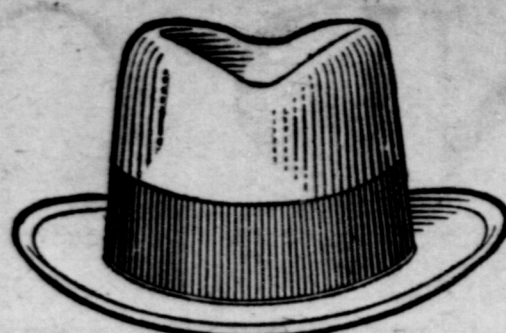

In the Normal course of lectures will appear Monday evening at Normal Chapel The Cathedral Choir. This choir is composed of nine members each of which was chosen for his or her especial fitness for this particular type of organization, thus forming a very strong combination. The repertoire of The Cathedral Choir includes a number of the short modern oratorios by such composers as Buck, Stainer and Schnecker, one of which is rendered at each performance, this being the first company in the history of the lyceum to offer such works in their entirety. The programs also include a number of old hymns, the interpretation of which is a special feature. As a fitting contrast to the sacred music and by way of furnishing a striking climax and finish, the company is heard in a number of secular solos, duets, quartets and choruses of a very high order, finally closing with a grand finale of an operatic nature. There is no class of music more beautiful, more helpful, more inspiring, more uplifting, and contributed to more bountifully by the world's greatest music masters, than that which is composed to be sung during services of divine worship. Music lovers should not fail to hear them.

To Tobacco Growers and friends of The Warehouse:

Friday will close the season, as our house will close at this time and until this fall, when we hope to be at your service better prepared than ever before to take care of what business you may wish to give us. The season just closing has in many ways been an exceptional one, considering the quality of and the amount of the crop, due to the severe drought. Tobacco has sold exceedingly well and we think will show a higher general average than last year. We sold about 107,000 pounds Monday and prices were fully as good as had been shown during the past month. If you have any tobacco left bring it in before Friday night and we will try to get you a satisfactory price for it, as we have tried earnestly and faithfully to do all season.

Now, we wish once again to express the thanks of every member of the Madison Tobacco Warehouse Co. to all who have so faithfully sold with us and to assure them of our appreciation in every way that we can, and, finally, to say that the Madison Tobacco Warehouse will keep on improving from year to year until we will have a warehouse second to none in the State. Watch us! We will have every facility known to handle your tobacco promptly and to always stand for the farmer and grower to get every dollar there is in his tobacco.

If during the growing season we can be of any help in any way to you, we will thank you to command us.

We are most gratefully yours,

On Sunday the jolly party attended Christian church services at Union and heard a splendid sermon by Rev. Peel, whose subject was "The usefulness of the physical self and the necessary transition before entering into a haven of rest." After services Rev. Peel joined the party and dined at the home of the hostess. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Gentry were loud in their praises for her generous treatment and the bounteous feast prepared for them. Those present were: Misses Alberta Norville, Linnie Alcorn, Edith Peel, Elizabeth Blake, Lillian and Lucile Broadus, Geneva Parke, Marguerite Jett, Messrs.

Miss Ellen Miller was hostess of the Girls' Five Hundred Club, Monday afternoon, at Ellendale. The party was one of the prettiest George Washington entertainments and the idea prevailed throughout. The club trophy went to Miss Thomas Cole Covington and the consolation to Miss Austin Lilly. $4.55 From 23 Cents.

Out of one pound of a compound of nickel and copper, costing about twenty-three cents, the Government coins $4.55 worth of 5 cent pieces.

A $5,000 Rooster.

Louis Lee Haggin, of Russell Cave Poultry Yards, on the Elmendorf Farm, in Fayette county, is the possessor of a White Orpington cock for which he paid the sum of $5,000. He has other birds of the same strain that cost him $1,000 each. Mr. Haggin, among other things, feeds his chickens cut alfalfa and secures the best quality that money can buy. After looking over many crops recently he closed a deal for his supply with W. P. Givens, the Lincoln county alfalfa man, near Shelby City. All the alfalfa fed to his prize birds will be grown by Mr. Givens. For this he pays a fancy price, as only the very best will suffice—Shelby Sentinel.

Aid The Editor.

One of the most difficult tasks in a newspaper office is getting the facts relative to births, deaths and marriages in the community. Many people take it for granted that when a person dies the editor is familiar with every detail of the life of the deceased and his activities, when as a fact he knows absolutely nothing about him, perhaps, but he has to get his information from other sources, the same as other persons would have to do. It is the same with regard to marriages, births or other more or less important happenings in the community. In almost every case the editor has to dig up the particulars or satisfy himself and the readers of his paper with a meager and inaccurate account. The average editor of a country paper has something like a million and a half things to do and think about in a week, and the patrons can hardly overestimate how much he appreciates any effort they make in furnishing him the facts for news items.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Hyomei Relieves In Five Minutes

YOU BREATHE IT.

If your head is all stuffed up from a cold or catarrh, you suffer with dull headaches and seem lacking in vitality, or are constantly sniffling and coughing, you need a remedy that will give the quickest, most effective and lasting relief possible—something that will go right to the spot, clear the head and throat and end your misery. Surely use Hyomei—all druggists sell it. It is just such a remedy, and is entirely harmless and pleasant to use—you breathe it—no stomach dosing.

The antiseptic oils of Hyomei mix with the air you breathe—its health-giving medication immediately reaches the sore and inflamed mucous membrane—you feel better in five minutes. It is practically impossible to use Hyomei and not only be relieved but permanently benefited. B. L. Middleton will refund your money if you are not satisfied. Ask for the complete outfit—$1 size.

Lookout Boys.

Boys of different countries perform strange duties in looking after property entrusted to their care. Some herd cattle; others, horses, sheep, goats or swine. Many are employed to look after flocks of geese, ducks or turkeys, while still others are hired to scare away crows or other birds from fields of corn or wheat. But it remains for some of the countries of northern Europe to furnish the strangest employment for boys.

Along the coast of Norway and Sweden may be seen little sentry boxes, known as "lookouts" or "crows' nests," perched high on poles near the water's edge.

These sentry boxes are reached by a ladder formed of cleats nailed crosswise to the poles at regular intervals. In each of these boxes sits a boy whose duty it is to watch out for schools of fish, and as soon as they appear to notify the villages by ringing a bell, the cord to which hangs conveniently near.

All day long he sits there, gazing out across the waters, searching with his keen eyes for the first signs of the expected schools of fish. He can discern them at immense distances. The villagers place implicit confidence in his watchfulness and work contentedly in the fields awaiting the signal. At the first sound of the bell they drop their field work and rush to their boats to gather in the harvest of sea food furnished so abundantly by the ocean.

He Kept The Job.

One of the bosses of the Baldwin Locomotive Works had to lay off an argumentative Irishman named Pat, so he saved discussion by putting the discharge in writing. The next day Pat was missing, but a week later the boss was passing through the shop and saw him at his lathe. Going up to the Irishman he demanded fiercely:

"Didn't you get my letter?"

"Yer, sur, Oi did," said Pat.

"Did you read it?"

"Sure, sur, Oi read it inside and Oi read it outside," said Pat; "and on the inside ye said I was fired, and on the outside ye said 'Return to Baldwin Locomotive Works in five days.'"

Unstamped Letters Cost Double.

An order issued to postmasters recently by Postmaster General Burleson states that letters placed in the mails without stamps will be delivered to their destinations and double postage charged. Anyone detected making a practice of putting unstamped letters in the mail will be watched, and any letter which they place in the mail not stamped, whether accidentally or purposely, will be held at the office.

This Ought to Win One.

Jas. O. Baldwin, husky lad, wants to marry very bad. He is 50, six feet tall, strong; couldn't get a wife at home, so he sends this little poem:

"Wanted—Wife to clean and scrub, mend my socks and cook the grub. Must be handsome, bright and gay—if she's a day. Widow woman not deterred—one kid, maybe none, preferred. She must have some cash to spend; an intellect with learned trend. She must be a music lover; fond of me and nary other. That is what my wife must be—lum-te-dum-to deedle-dee."—New York Mail.

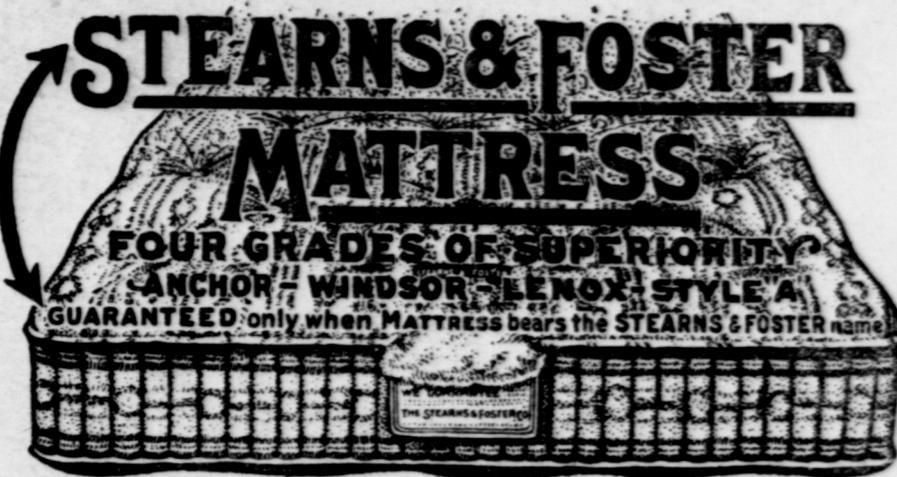

LOCAL WOMEN AGREE WITH STAGE BEAUTIES.

Of all women in the world, probably those on the stage are most particular about their personal appearance, and especially in the care of the hair; and when such leading stage beauties as Ethel Barrymore, Elsie Ferguson, Natalie Alt, Louise Dresser, Rose Coghlan, Laurette Taylor and many others are so enthusiastic about Harmony Hair Beautifier as to write in praise of it, that is certainly evidence that it does just what they say it does—that is, beautifies the hair. There are many women right in this town, and men, too, who regard it as indispensable, because it makes the hair glossier and more silky, easier to dress and make stay in place. Sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather and immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness. Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us.—H. L. Perry's Rexall Store, Richmond, Ky.

IT'S THE DIFFERENCE THAT COUNTS. There's a difference in the way different motor cars run; a difference in appearance, a difference in when they can go and where they can't, and a difference in the cost of operation. It's the difference the careful buyer wants to know about.

A Buick car is built in the Buick shops and means better material and better workmanship at a minimum cost, a combination which gives the Buick owner the most for his money.

A Buick owner is the most satisfied owner in the world. He can't go any distance at all without finding a Buick dealer—if he wants one. And the Buick sign is always a sign of good treatment.

SCRAPS.

A man who is full of himself is always empty.

Love makes the world go round, there being no crank equal to a lover.

A man's horse comes near to knowing just how much religion he has.

Miss Smart—Have you ever been thro' algebra?

Mr. Green—Yes, but it was at night and I didn't see much of the place.

"I wish you would do something for my husband," said the anxious wife.

"He's worrying about money."

"Don't be alarmed," reassured the physician. "I'll relieve him of that."

Teacher—"Do you know, Tommy, when shingles first came into use?"

Tommy—"I think when I was between five and six years old, ma'am."

An Oklahoma newspaper advertises as follows: "Full blooded cow for sale, giving milk, three tons of hay, a lot of chickens and several stoves."

She held her sweet mouth up to him.

And then remarked, to wit:

"You may print a kiss on my lips, dear Jim."

But you must not publish it."

"Is the young man all right who is going to marry your daughter?"

"I have every reason to believe so. He has been audited by the audit company, assayed by the local chemist, tested by the State bacteriologist, certified by the genealogist and appraised by the medical and surgical staff of the county

HAD CATARRH FIVE YEARS.

Mr. Johnson of St. Elmo, Illinois, was troubled five years with catarrh. The catarrh was so severe in his case that his life seemed threatened. As he expressed it himself, he had "one foot in the grave."

Of course he tried to get relief. Many practitioners were consulted and a catarrh specialist in St. Louis was tried. He got so weak and thoroughly run down that he declares he could not walk more than a hundred yards without resting.

Few people understand that catarrh is a constant drain on the system. The discharge of mucus which is going on in such cases is largely composed of blood serum, and is a great waste. Sooner or later it will weaken the strongest man.

According to reports received from Mr. Johnson, he was in a desperate condition, but he found relief from his trouble. We will let him say how he found it. His own words say:

"My friends told me to take Peruna, and I did so. I now feel that Peruna has saved my life. It is the best medicine on earth, and I would not be without it."

This seems almost too good to be true. No doubt there are some readers that will think so. The above statements, however, can be verified by writing Mr. Johnson.

hospital.

Mrs. Simson—"Now, Bobby, I'm going out and I want you to look after the house like a little man—just as your father would if he were here."

Bobby—"Have I got to kiss the nurse, too?"

He called her "lily," "violet," "rose."

And every other sweet flower of spring. She said: "I can't be all of those."

"So you must kiss everything."

At the feast of knowledge few of us get beyond the soup.

A girl shouldn't trust a man too far—or too near, either.

He (pressing the hand of the lady next to him)—"I'm just crazy for them to turn up the light, so I can see your face!"

She—"You needn't be—I'm my own wife!"

The teacher was telling her class a little story in natural history and she asked if any one could tell her what a ground-hog was. Up went a little hand, waving frantically. "Well, Carl, you may tell us what ground-hog is."

"If you please, ma'am, it's sausage."

That best portion of a good man's life—his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love.

Most scandal is half imagination and half conjecture. That doesn't leave much substance, does it?

"I saw you kiss sister last night."

"Did you, Bobby? Here's a quarter for you."

"Thanks. And then I saw you kiss the maid in the hall."

"Great Scott! Here's $5!"

Backache—Rheumatism Vanish Away.

Men and women having backache, rheumatism, stiff and swollen joints are honestly glad to know that Foley Kidney Pills are successful everywhere in driving out these ills. That is because Foley Kidney Pills are a true medicine and quickly effective in all diseases that result from weak inactive kidneys and urinary irregularities. All druggists.

The Two Horns.

George Lansbury, the English parliamentarian, said in a labor address in New York:

"The British laboring man adheres more and more to the labor party. He is finding out more and more that he has little but promises to expect from either the Conservatives or the Liberals."

"A Liberal millionaire was addressing one night a political meeting of workmen."

"Vote for the Liberal candidate, our dear Lord Dacre!" he cried. "Conservatism, indeed! What have you workmen got to conserve? Why, nothing—absolutely nothing."

"Right!" he roared, "old cock!" roared a workman from the rear of the hall.

"An' we ain't got nothin' to be liberal with, either!"

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The pain ceased, and the child sank into a restful sleep."

—Mrs. Nancy M. Haddon, Harrisburg, New York. All druggists.

Fate.

"My good man, how did you come to be in prison?"

"Fate, I guess, ma'am."

"Fate! I don't understand you."

"Well, you see, it must have been or dained that somebody would be in this cell when you came along asking fool questions, and, of course I had to be the goat."

Strict Economy.

"Nothing is lost here but the squeal," declared the pork packer. "Are you as economical in conducting your business?"

"More so," answered the visitor. "I am in the lumber business. We don't waste even the bark."

"Can't look well, eat well, or feel well with impure blood. Keep the blood pure with Burdock Blood Bitters. Eat simply, take exercise, keep clean, and good health is pretty sure to follow. $1.00 a bottle."

The Great Lakes.

So long as the Great Lakes exist, the United States of America need not worry about its supply of drinking water. No nation in the world is so lavishly supplied with pure, fresh water. And yet, in every great city which borders on these remarkable lakes, men can be seen rushing by thousands to slake their thirst with something else.

The Great Lakes are five in number and can be drunk with impunity, without being boiled. They form the large connection of unsalted water in the world, and all of England could be put to soak in them. From the western end of Lake Superior, adventurers can sail almost 1,500 miles before Lake Ontario dwindles into the St. Lawrence river.

Much caution must be observed in doing this, for three reasons. In the first place, Lake Superior falls all over itself getting into Lake Huron; in the second place, Lake Erie, after flowing gently past Buffalo, suddenly drops 160 feet at Niagara, with a tremendous concussion.

In the third place, the Great Lakes, when irritated, take great delight in piling the most ponderous vessels bottom up on top of each other along its shores.

The Great Lakes would only make a little patch of wetness in the ocean, but they have a way of standing a ship on its extreme end and of promoting seasickness in all of its forms, which even the ocean cannot surpass.

The Great Lakes form a wide and generally ample boundary between the United States and Canada and the two governments have improved the rough spots in them with canals. Because of this, the Lakes now resemble a torch light procession in the busy season, and more vessels pass Detroit than will ever go through the Panama Canal.

Owing to the low freight rates, good fishing and cool summer breezes, enormous cities have grown up along the Great Lakes, including Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Milwaukee, Buffalo, Toledo, Toronto and Duluth. These cities now have almost 5,000,000 population, but 100 years ago there weren't enough people in all of them together to influence a ward caucus in the slightest degree.

Lake Superior is the largest of the Great Lakes. It has 29,000 square miles, is 900 feet deep and is so cold that steam heat is handy all summer around its shore.

Lake Michigan is a long, deep body of water, which is being borrowed by Chicago for the purpose of flushing its sewer system and now flows into the Gulf of Mexico as well as into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Lake Michigan is almost entirely surrounded with summer cottages and is the largest bath tub in the world, the oceans excepted.

Lake Huron is shaped like a puddle of ink and serves to protect Michigan's peach orchards from the northeast storms.

Lake Erie is as shallow as a society preacher, is lined with steel mills and contains the largest fresh water steamer in captivity.

Lake Ontario has a pronounced Canadian accent along its northern shores and is the only one of the five not infested with ore boats.

The Great Lakes freeze up in winter, both in their native element and in the plumbing of a million homes, but in the summer they are beautiful as they are useful, and the North Central States would be dull and uninteresting without them.—Geo. Matthew Adams.

Doctors.

In days of old
The doctors bled,
In ignorance of bugs,
Essayed to still
A mortal ail

With nauseating drugs.

But in this age
It is the rage,
When sickness intervenes,
Blindly to treat
The obsolete

With serum or vaccines.

God only knows
As Science grows,
In years that are to be,
How they will send
Each ailing friend

Into eternity!

—Ralph M. Thompson.

IDEALS.

There is but one bird sings like that!
From Paradise it flew,
Out to the world with wavering plumage gay.

When on creation's glad awakening day
The morning wore the dew.

It is not nightingale or lark;
Oh, a divine bird!

In moon touched forest, sweet with night and dew,
In dawn-stirred meadows, when the Spring goes through,

Its voice was never heard.

Its nest? In bowers of fadeless bloom,
Nowhere that we can see,
The winds have never found it, and the rain

Of wasting Autumns beat the leaves in vain
On that immortal tree.

Its age—its country. No man knows.
Born for the world's delight,
No bird that goes through splendors of the dawn,

Or homeward comes, down quiet twilight drawn,
Has wings for such far flight.

Can no one find it? All the world is seeking it—afar,
Each in his turn has cried: "Lo, it is mine!"

Oh, bitter-sweet! Still is the joy divine
Farther than flower from star.

—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Four Eclipses in 1914.

Four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon, are to take place during the present year. The first occurred yesterday. It was an annular eclipse of the sun, invisible in North America.

The only persons who had an opportunity to view it at all were the residents in the most southern parts of Patagonia and New Zealand, and they saw it only as a small partial eclipse.

During the second week in March there will be a partial eclipse of the moon, which will be visible in practically every part of the United States and Canada. In August will come a total eclipse of the sun, which will be visible as a small partial eclipse in eastern Canada and the New England States.

On September 3-4, there will be a partial eclipse of the moon, which will be visible in the far western part of the United States and Canada.

Mr. Brown rushed into the room and exclaimed: "Marie, Marie, intelligence has just reached me—"

Mrs. Brown calmly interrupting him, said: "Well, thank heaven, Henry."

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles Or Your Money Back

We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word. You know us—your family druggist. You know we wouldn't dare recommend anything we didn't believe it to be better than any other to relieve the ailment for which it is made, and when we prove our faith in it and our sincerity toward you by promising to give back your money if it doesn't relieve you and in every way satisfy you, you have no possible excuse for doubt or hesitation.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00 is wearing and dangerous because the inflamed, mucus-filled tubes interfere with breathing and the fresh air passes through that unhealthy tissue.

Probably no other remedy affords such prompt and permanent relief as Scott's Emulsion; it checks the cough, heals the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes and strengthens the lungs to avert tuberculosis. This point cannot be emphasized too strongly—that Scott's Emulsion has been suppressing bronchitis for forty years and will help you.

Apropos of Laziness.

George W. Perkins, at a dinner in Chicago, said of laziness:

"Laziness is the rarest of the American business man's vices. Few, indeed, are the business men who resemble Bob Meed. Bob Meed kept a grocery store in my native Chicago. A little girl came in one day and said:

"Give me five cents' worth of flour, please."

Bob laid down the weekly paper, and snarled, as he shuffled toward the flour barrel:

"Ah, ain't there nobody who sells flour in this here town but me?"

BRINK OF HONEYMOON

By JENNIE CARPENTER.

Bride Elect—Isn't it going to be fun, girls? The darlingest flat, with a sun parlor! The work won't be anything at all, with everything new, you know.

"I am going to have simply heaps of company, because it means so much to a young married couple to start right and form a circle of friends. And, oh, come this minute and see the silver set Uncle John sent me! Won't it be simply angelic for afternoon teas? And when any of you get married be sure to go to that little shop for monograms and things. Did you ever see anything prettier than these initials?"

"Yes, all my household stuff is pure linen—I think it's just as well to get the best and then you have it. Mother groans about laundries ruining it, but then mother is so fussy. She thinks the washerwomen rub holes in things with a file, I believe."

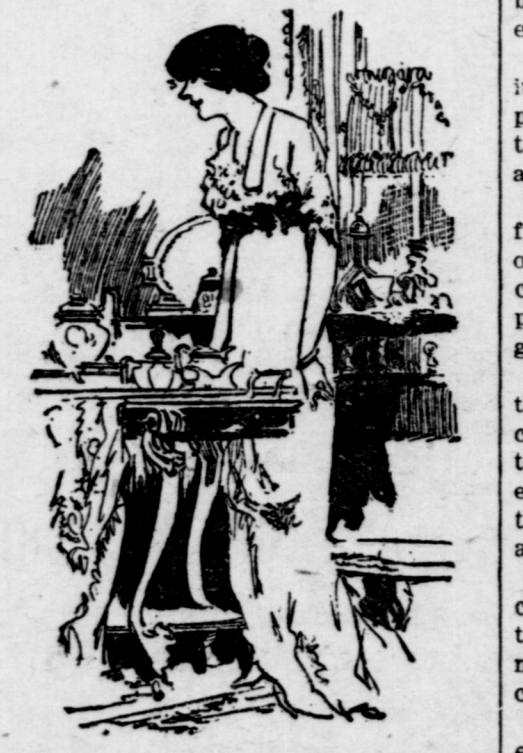

"No, I got satin for the wedding dress. It was pretty expensive—$8 a yard, but I think it lovely to have down a dress like that. Think of having your great-great-granddaughter wearing it and every one exclaiming over its richness!"

"I'm going to have oriental rugs over the whole place—and coffee after dinner on the sun porch, always! I can do the dinner dishes mornings. Come and see the chiffon and lace negligees that I have to wear mornings when I'm doing the work!"

Bride Elect's Mother—Whatever Geraldine is going to do when she gets to keeping house by herself goodness knows! Look at this room of hers! I never saw such disorder in my life! What a shock it will be to her to discover after she walks out, leaving six dresses, ten pairs of shoes, a tipped-over box of gloves and a lot of mixed stockings scattered about her room that they'll stay there when she gets back!

"I've spoiled Geraldine waiting on her all her life! She really didn't need so much silk underwear—when her father so hard up for money. How I'm going to find $200 to pay for monogramming her things I'd like to know! I had no idea she'd given such an order. If they aren't in the poorhouse inside of a year, with Albert's small salary and their extravagant ideas, they'll be lucky. Wait till she finds what cream costs a quart and the price of starch and what it means to have company!"

"Mercy, the company Geraldine has always brought to the house! I suppose she has never realized the work I've done on that score. And she wouldn't let me ask the Moreys—old family friends, too—because she said they were frumps and she wasn't going to start out with frumps on her calling list. I don't know where Geraldine gets such odd ideas.

"I Am Going to Have Heaps of Company."

"I hadn't got over my shock at her adding up what she estimated the wedding gifts to be worth. How on earth we are going to pay all the bills I don't know. Geraldine would have this big wedding!"

Bridegroom's Mother—It may have cost double what it should, Henry, but I was going to have a dress to wear to my son's wedding that would make Geraldine's people sit up!

"The wedding presents from our side make a better showing than the wedding presents from theirs. Look at that trumpery tea set from her Uncle John! I expect poor Albert will be starved or poisoned to death with her cooking—she is absolutely ignorant of everything useful! Her mother has brought her up so foolishly!"

"Well, I'll have to keep an eye on their flat and go over day and keep Geraldine up to the mark! I cannot have Albert's digestion ruined!"

Bridegroom Elect—If dad doesn't loosen up that wedding trip to the Bermudas goes glimmering! And Geraldine has told every one that we are going! Stacy White shoved me into those expensive presents for the ushers. I could have got something as good for half the money if I'd been alone, confound it! Friends are a nuisance when a fellow's getting married! They think the show is just for them!

"I don't see why Geraldine's mother has such a fit at the idea of Geraldine doing her own work in a six-room flat! It looks all shiny and clean now and I expect it will keep that way! Getting meals is nothing—Geraldine says so."

"I'll have to hock this diamond frat pin for car fare if dad doesn't come across!"—Chicago Daily News.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

DAIRY

MUCH DAIRYING IN SCOTLAND

Cows Kept Are Practically All High-Grade or Pure Ayrshires—Heifers Are Raised.

In the southern part of Scotland, dairying is almost the sole occupation of the farmers. The cows kept are practically all high-grade or pure bred Ayrshires, and as a class are efficient and economic producers. Heifer calves from the best cows are always raised, not sold. A good registered Ayrshire cow brings from $125 to $200, and a good grade cow $80 to $100. Cows that are good milkers are kept as long as they are healthy. In many herds in Scotland are cows 20 years old, and still good producers, but the herds which are fed heavily on grain they do not last as long, and the oldest cow is not more than twelve years old. For the American dairyman, the striking features of Scotch dairying are the uniformly good cows kept, the excellent care given them, and the attention paid to feeding them economically on a small amount of grain, never wasting concentrates on cows that are not producing heavily. When we consider the low efficiency of the average cows milked in America compared with the average Ayrshires milked in Scotland, it is easy to see the great possibilities yet unattained by the dairymen of this country.

GLUTEN FEED TO DAIRY COWS

Good Supplementary Food May Be Profitably Given in Place of Bean Meal—Other Good Feeds.

Gluten feed forms a good supplementary food for dairy cows and may be profitably fed to take the place of bean meal in forming the concentrated part of the ration.

Cows eat gluten feed regularly and it may be safely given up to seven pounds a day, though smaller quantities fed as part of a mixture will probably give the better result.

Bean meal and crushed oats have fully maintained their past reputation of being an excellent food for dairy cows, but the mixture is more expensive than an equal weight of gluten feed.

Sugar beet is an excellent food for the dairy cows. There is a little difficulty at first in getting some animals to take to it. It shows a very marked effect in stimulating and maintaining the yield of milk, even when the cows are advanced in lactation.

Cows fed on sugar beets produce a cream more difficult to churn than those fed on an equal weight of turnips and the butter is very pale in color.

Gluten feed is the refuse after the extraction of starch from grain and may be had in two forms, either as gluten meal or as gluten feed, the latter consisting of the hull, the gluten layer and the germ, the hull being absent in the case of gluten meal.

The gluten feed is naturally the lighter fed of the two and may be fed to the extent of seven pounds or eight pounds daily. Its feeding composition approximates fairly closely to beans and peas and it keeps well.

FEW CLEAN MILK ESSENTIALS

Simple Procedures Are All That Is Required to Keep the Dirt Down to Small Proportions.

"All is not gold that glitters." Not all white substances are clean. The cleanest appearing of all foods—virgin white milk—is the dirtiest of all foods. One can eat a good deal of dirt with safety if it has been cooked, but raw dirt is dangerous. If one can eat a peck of dirt with safety it must be cooked dirt.

Dirt gets into milk from the milkers' hands, from the cow's udder, from the swish of the cow's tail, from the milk pails and milk cans, from the air of the stable, and from any faulty handling after it leaves the farmer.

Simple procedures are all that are necessary to keep the dirt down to small proportions. They are clean hands, clean udder, and clean pails and cans.

Varied Rations for Cows.

Cows should not be kept too long on one particular ration, good though it may be, and the feed should consist of a variety of materials rather than any single one. A sufficient ration must be given for the maintenance of body and the production of milk. It is false economy to allow a cow to produce milk at the expense of her own body.

Puzzles of The Law.

When a law is made in this country nobody knows whether it is a law until the courts have passed upon it. If the tribunal of last resort does not like the measure, it proceeds to efface it. When a court renders a decision, nobody knows whether this is to stand until it has been projected into the highest realm of adjudication. There it may be annulled, vacated, or some other fatality happen to it.

Late Paris Fashions.

One of the prettiest necklaces is the velvet collar with its pendant or buckles. Short strings of heavy beads are also much worn.

Some of the new cotton crepes have a dash of silk mixed in with them to form a design, and this design is often as not in colors.

The tailored shirts for sports' wear are those with an extra large armhole.

The short, loose jackets, which end in belts below the hip line, continue to be worn.

The frilly edge seems to be an indispensable detail in the fashionable neck fixings.

Baroque pearls ornamented with jeweled wreaths make very charming hat-pins.

The train of an evening gown should be lined with its own material, or with a plain silk of its own color.

Little vest "tabs" showing under the closing of the coat are almost indispensable to the fashionable costume.

More and more the long-bodied French style is seen in children's frocks, both for school and nicer wear.

Macrame work is gaining in favor everywhere for all sorts of objects, from girldes and handbags to table covers.

Fashion is going to the opposite extreme of tight swathing, new coats and other wraps being positively voluminous.

As the free supply with each druggist is limited it is advisable to present your coupon early.

This new treatment, Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve, relieves croup and cold troubles by external application. There is no need to dose the stomach with injurious medicines. Its use is especially recommended to mothers with small children, as Vick's can be used as often and as freely as wished without disturbing the delicate stomachs of the little chaps.

THE DEADLY POISON LURKING IN ALCOHOL

Pope's Physician Describes Its Destructive Effects Upon Humanity.

World-wide broadsides are being poured into liquor these days. Milan was the recent scene of an International Congress Against Drunkenness. At the marvelous gathering Prof. Ettore Marchiafava, of the University of Rome, a Senator of Italy and Physician to His Holiness, Pope Pius X, delivered the address which created the most interest.

Prof. Marchiafava indicted alcohol as a deadly poison, which inflames the stomach; causes cirrhosis of the liver; enfeebles the blood; weakens the heart; poisons the unborn child; paralyzes the brain, and makes us liable to other diseases.

"To continue the use of alcoholic liquor," so this learned medical adviser of the Pope declares, is to "effect the body as to render it more apt to contract diseases of other origin. Among these is progressive paralysis. Among the infectious diseases upon which alcohol has the greatest influence is tuberculosis. When we consider all that takes place in the brains of drunkards we feel the tragic truth of the words that Shakespeare makes Cassio say: 'Oh God, that men should put an enemy in their mouth to steal away their brains.'"

It was to effect the results of alcoholic indulgence that Neal Institutes have been established all over the American continent and in Australia.

Cincinnati's Neal Institute was the former Avondale home of Captain C. M. Holloway. At this handsome home-stand the Neal Treatment, a purely vegetable remedy, taken internally with no dangerous hypodermic injections, is administered by regular physicians. Three days of this splendid treatment will change the desire for drink into intense dislike for everything alcoholic.

Investigate, or ask your physician to do so. Write, phone or call for booklet. The Neal Institute, 601 Maple avenue, Cincinnati, O. Telephone 4020. Other Ohio Neal Institutes at Columbus and Cleveland.

If Congress will be good and attend strictly to business, it can have a holiday to enjoy the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Jos. Litzenger, of Minerva, Ky., has for the past 13 years been raising coffee in sufficient quantity to supply the needs of a family of 13. Last year she raised over 100 pounds and states that it is no longer an experiment, but an assured staple, so far as her own household is concerned.

The statue of Gov. Wm. Goebel, assassinated 14 years ago while the Legislature was in session, will be unveiled March 4.

The centenary of the birth of Samuel Jones Tilden was observed at a mass meeting in Carnegie Hall, New York, at which Mayor Mitchell delivered an address and a letter from Henry Watterson was read.

The Internal Revenue Department reports that the people of the United States drank 700,000,000 gallons of whisky last year. This is in the neighborhood of a gallon for every man, woman and child in the country. As many, like the writer, do not drink a drop, it is easy to observe that some are getting away with more than is coming to them.

The most sensational thing that has happened in Washington for many weeks was the lifting by President Wilson of the embargo on arms and ammunition exported into Mexico. This removes a handicap from the Insurgents or Constitutionalist led by Carranza against the Huerta defacto government. Heretofore the Insurgents have been unable to obtain arms and ammunition from this country, and with the lifting of this embargo they will now be abundantly equipped, and in a few weeks it is believed that they will smoke the usurper Huerta out. This is greatly to be desired, because the patriotic people of Mexico are back of Carranza and are anxious to see him drive the bloody monster Huerta, from the Presidential office.

Postmaster-General Burleson is energetically urging Congress to pass the bill authorizing the Government to take over the entire telephone and telegraph system of the country. All parts of the country are approving this recommendation on the part of Postmaster General, and thousands of letters are pouring in to Congressmen and Senators from all parts of the country urging them to support the proposed measure. Only a few years ago Great Britain took over the telephones of the British Kingdom and they have rendered much better service and at much less cost to the public than when operated by private enterprise. Nearly all of Europe now owns and operates the telegraph and the telephone, and we are several years behind them in this respect. These things are natural monopolies and should be run in the interest of the public like the Postoffice Department, instead of in the interest of the stockholders as at present.

Value of Rheuma From The Court.
Judge Barhorst Was Relieved of Rheumatism After Doctors Had Failed.
If you have tried many other remedies and doctors' treatments for Rheumatism and found they failed, do not be skeptical about trying RHEUMA. Read the testimony of Judge John Barhorst, of Fort Loraine, Ohio:

"After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously I was a cripple, walking with crutches." Such testimony should be convincing. Fifty cents of B. L. Middleton, and guaranteed.

Early Humor.
Gladstone, when a boy, was visiting in the country, and the farmer was showing him around. Coming to a field that contained a large black bull, the farmer said: "There's a fine, strong bull there, Master William, and it's only two years old."

"How do you tell its age?" queried the boy.
"By its horns," said the farmer.
"By its horns?" Young Gladstone looked thoughtful a moment then his face cleared. "Ah, I see Two horns—two years."

Have Pretty Hair

Thick, Soft, Fluffy and No Dandruff—Use Parisian.

If your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty, do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. If too thin, make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian Sage—all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching head cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage sold by Perry's Drug Store and at all drug counters, is just what you need—and a large bottle costs but 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and seem twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.

Brutal Retort.

Mrs. Longwedge—Such a charming husband Mrs. Von Pickle has! So tender after ten years of marriage!
Mr. Longwedge—Quite natural. It would make a rhinoceros tender to be kept in hot water for ten years.

COD LIVER OIL AND IRON

Two Most World-Famed Tonics Combined in Vinol.

Cod Liver oil and Iron have proved to be the two most successful tonics for the world has ever known—iron for the blood and the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil as a strength and tissue builder for body and nerves, and for the successful treatment of throat and lung troubles.

Two eminent French chemists discovered a method of separating the curative medicinal elements of the cod's livers from the oil or grease which is thrown away, but to these medicinal elements tonic iron is now added, thus combining in Vinol the two most world famed tonics.

As a body-builder and strength creator for weak, run-down people, for feeble old people, delicate children, to restore strength after sickness; and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis or pulmonary troubles we ask you to try Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

P. S. For pimples and blotches try our Sazo Salve. We guarantee it.

No Room For Argument.

There is no need of argument. Drink tells its own tale. It publishes its own long and disgraceful catalogue. "Poverty, Drowsiness, Rags, Woe, Sorrow, Contentions, Babbling, Red Eyes, Causeless Wounds, Serpent Bite and Adder Sting." These are the red lights which flash on the path of the beginner in dissipation.

A Winter Cough.

A stubborn, annoying, depressing cough hangs on, racks the body, weakens the lungs, and often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Sanders, of Cavendish, Vt., was threatened with consumption after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best of all medicines for coughs, colds or lung troubles." Good for children's coughs. Money back if not satisfied. Price 50 cents and $1.00. At all druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis. Feb.

It Never Fails.

An exchange says that alcohol will remove grass stains from summer clothes. The exchange is right. It will also remove summer clothes and also spring and winter clothes, not only from the man who drinks it, but also from his wife and children. It will remove household furniture from the house and food from the pantry; the smiles from the face of his wife and the happiness from his home. As a remover of things alcohol has few equals.

DEATHS

Mr. Richard Kanatkar died at his home on the Tates Creek pike, near Valley View, on last Friday. Deceased was 75 years of age and a Confederate soldier, serving in Gen. John Morgan's command during the trying period of the '60's. He is survived by two brothers and three sisters. They are Messrs. James Kanatkar, of this county, and Jesse Kanatkar, of Kansas; and Mesdames Soulyer Taylor, Geo. Million and John Kanatkar, of Madison.

Mr. Kanatkar was a man of sterling worth and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. His death was a severe shock to his relatives and friends, all of whom have the deepest sympathy of everyone. Funeral services were held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. O. J. Young, after which the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the family burying-ground.

The body of W. B. Goode, aged 52, who died at Winchester Saturday, after being stricken with paralysis, was taken to his old home at Stanford, where the burial took place Sunday afternoon.

After an illness of many months of a complication of diseases, Mr. Charles Clay died at his home in College Hill last Tuesday night, aged 68 years. Deceased was one of Madison county's well known citizens and his death will prove a shock to his family and friends. Mr. Clay married Miss Mollie Tribble, daughter of Elder and Mrs. A. J. Tribble, and is survived by her and two sons, Andrew and Robert, aged eight and ten years. Two brothers, residents of Idaho, also survive. Interment took place in Richmond Cemetery Wednesday.

Mr. W. T. Duerson died in this city Wednesday night following an operation for cancer of the bowels. Deceased, who was one of Madison county's most prominent farmers, had been a great sufferer, and submitted to an operation as the only hope of improving his condition, but his advanced age was a barrier too great to overcome. Mr. Duerson was a Confederate soldier, having been a member of Col. Chennault's regiment of Morgan's cavalry. He was a man of highest integrity and enjoyed a wide acquaintance throughout Madison and adjoining counties and his death brings sorrow to many relatives and friends. He is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. D. A. McCord, Mrs. Doc Ferrill and Mr. Lewis Duerson, all of this county, and a son in the West. Funeral services were conducted Saturday and the interment took place in Richmond Cemetery.

The Mt. Vernon Signal contains the following notice of the death at that place, last Thursday, of Mr. E. L. Cockrill, formerly of Estill county, who is well known in this city, where his remains were interred Friday:

"Mr. E. L. Cockrill passed to his reward Wednesday night at his home in Livingston. His death came as a great surprise to all, not even his family expecting when they bid him good night on Wednesday night that they would find him cold in death the next morning. Without a murmur or a struggle the end came. For several days he had been suffering from a severe cold, but it was the least of any one's thought that there was any ailment that would prove fatal. Mr. Cockrill was one of the county's wealthiest and best business men and his death will mean much to the best interests of the county. He leaves a wife and little son, four years old."

The sad intelligence of the death on Monday morning of Mr. Marcus W. Phelps, at the home of his relative, Mrs. Claude Walton, on Glyndon avenue, came as a distinct shock to a large circle of relatives and friends in Madison and adjoining counties. Few were aware of the illness of this splendid gentleman until the announcement was made that he had crossed "over the river to rest under the shade." Deceased had been in failing health for some time, due to stomach trouble, and being 87 years of age, his constitution was too weakened to withstand the ravages of the disease, and the end came peacefully, as he had lived, surrounded by many of his loved ones. In his death Madison loses another of her most honored citizens, the Christian church a consistent member, his family a devoted husband and father. Mr. Phelps was the last survivor of a large family of brothers and sisters. In addition to his wife, he is survived by the following children: Messrs. Samuel, Marcus, Jr., and Rufus Phelps, of this county; Dr. R. M. Phelps, of Fowler, Texas; Dr. May Phelps, of Texas; Mrs. John W. Fox, Dawson, Ga.; Mrs. Richard Hocker, Stanford; Mrs. Nelson Jones, Phoenix, Ariz., all of whom are left the priceless heritage of a noble life spent on earth and to each of these who mourn the loss of husband and father the tenderest sympathy of the entire community is extended.

The funeral and burial will take place the last of the week, arrangements for which will not be made until his children from a distance arrive.

Elocutionary Contest.
The annual elocutionary contest of the high school grades of Caldwell High School was held in the auditorium of the school Friday evening. The contestants were Misses Buelah Cotton, Elizabeth Terrill, Katie Smith, Frankie Kiese and Messrs. Robert Covington, Gordon Barnes, Joe Giunchigliani, Jr., and David Hobson. Each of the readers were well gotten up and reflected a great deal of credit on the young ladies and young men and their assistants in the preparations. The first prizes were awarded to Miss Buelah Cotton and Mr. Gordon Barnes, and these two especially are to be congratulated.

"Bro. Barnes" Body Rests In Kentucky Soil.

The following from the Danville Messenger will prove interesting to the many friends in Madison of "Bro. Barnes," who lovingly cherish his memory:

"Mrs. Della Bogle received a telegram from Wm. Barnes, stating that the bodies of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Geo. O. Barnes, had been shipped from Sanibel Island and would arrive in Danville tomorrow (Saturday, 14th inst.) As stated in the Messenger several weeks ago, friends of the famous evangelist decided to exhume and remove the bodies to Kentucky. They were buried on Sanibel, the home of the minister, at the time of their deaths, several years ago.

"Upon arrival in Danville, the caskets were taken to Bellevue Cemetery and placed in a vault. On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the bodies were buried. There was no elaborate service, simply a prayer and songs.

"George O. Barnes was the most widely-known evangelist that Kentucky ever produced. Beginning his work in the mountains of the State, news of his wonderful success soon spread, and he visited many other States. He also went abroad, to England, Scotland and in fact circled the globe, "without script or purse," preaching the doctrine of "God is Love and Nothing Else." He was always accompanied by his daughter, Miss Marie, who is a singer of great ability. They carried with them a small organ and their sweet songs won many souls to better things. They sang only the old familiar songs, the congregation rarely being asked to join with them. Mr. Barnes was originally a licensed minister in the Presbyterian church and served as a missionary to India under that sect in the '60's. Not long after his return from that country and while having charge of the Stanford church, his liberal doctrine caused his dismissal from the Presbyterian pulpit. From that time on he preached "God is Love."

"Geo. O. Barnes was a man of great mind and most charming personality, and his preaching reached many people who would otherwise have never given a thought to their souls' salvation. He was a Mexican soldier, having enlisted from Madison county. Most of his life was spent in Garrard and Lincoln counties."
